FCE

The Cambridge First Certificate in English (FCE) is an upper-intermediate examination for learners of English, set at level B2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. It is taken by approximately quarter of a million people every year, in more than one hundred countries. Like other Cambridge English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) examinations, FCE covers the four main language skills – Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking – as well as knowledge of vocabulary and grammar, and assesses learners' ability to communicate in English in real situations.

For more information on the First Certificate in English, visit our website at www.CambridgeESOL.org or contact ESOL Information, University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, 1 Hills Rd, Cambridge, CB1 2EU, United Kingdom.

Below are details of some of the further and higher education institutions worldwide which recognise the Cambridge First Certificate in English (FCE). Many of the following institutions encourage their students to take international examinations such as the FCE. Some institutions recognise FCE for admissions purposes, others recognise FCE as credits towards internal English courses. You should note that requirements for particular further/higher education courses often vary and you should always discuss specific entry or credit details with the institution directly.
